DANBURY CAN have fast, affordable, and reliable Internet service!

Come to the Danbury Town Hall at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, June 14, to hear a presentation by Luc Beaubien of New England Wireless Company (NEWco).

Luc will describe the advantages of broadband wireless Internet, the services his company offers, fee options, and the equipment and infrastructure used.

There will be time for questions and answers – and refreshments -- after Luc's presentation.

This is a public information meeting sponsored by the Danbury Broadband Expansion Committee. Of all the possible Internet service providers that the committee has researched and interviewed, NEWco has demonstrated the most interest and ability to provide town-wide coverage.

If enough people are interested, a Danbury network could be installed quickly. Wireless technology does not need cable, overhead lines, expensive equipment, tall towers, or extensive access roads, and it does not require any expenditures by town government.

Please share the news and come to the meeting!
